Hi, I'm Linda McKnight. I'm hoping to be your next crochet instructor. I've been crocheting and knitting for almost 50 years. I learned to crochet long before there were the fabulous yarn shops that we enjoy now. I was able to buy a book, a hook, and a ball of yarn at my favorite Ben Franklin. I then made the world's biggest potholder. Over the next 45 years, I've learned a lot about crochet, knitting, and quilting. I'm hoping that I'll be able to impart some of joy of crocheting onto you, the student.

About me... I'm a retired, twenty plus year veteran of law enforcement and fire service. I've won many awards for my crochet, knitting, and quilting work, as well as in fine arts. I have been a lifelong artist and am willing to try just about anything. My husband and I love to travel with our 7 year old Burmese cat, Merlin.
